2. In discussing the strength of the Clandestine Services Personnel Division, it was reported that the Deputy position is vacant, but [REDACTED] has been acting. When the time comes to fill the position permanently, Colonel White suggested that it should be filled by an officer with rather extensive field experience, possibly someone who has served in the field as a Support Chief.

[REDACTED] name was mentioned as an example of the type of individual who probably should be given consideration. Dave, of course, can't be considered now because other plans have been made for him.

3. Colonel White mentioned that in a conversation with Mr. [REDACTED] recently the possibility of permitting Chiefs of Area Divisions in the Clandestine Services to promote personnel up to grade GS-11 was suggested as worth some consideration. Colonel White suggested that Mr. [REDACTED] consider the feasibility of this and develop a proposal, keeping in mind that the Career Service mechanism in the Clandestine Services does and must continue to function differently than the Career Services in the Support, Intelligence, and Science and Technology Services.

4. A quite different impression of the situation in the clerical pool was given today when it was reported that the Clandestine Services have levied requirements which cannot be met. Last week, on the other hand, it was reported that 73 people were being carried in the pool, only some of whom were on detail elsewhere, leaving the clear impression that somewhere between 30 and 60 were available for immediate assignment. Colonel White would like to have this information clarified and corrected.
